

Fleming Fulton School

School will be closed on Monday 30th May 2016

Good luck to all our post primary pupils who have been working hard on coursework and those who are preparing to sit exams.

We look forward to welcoming our Erasmus partner schools to Belfast on Monday 23rd May

Meet and greet

Last Thursday we opened our doors to a wide range of visitors. Everyone got the chance to see Fleming Fulton at work. Thank you for joining us and for the positive feedback.

Vex Robotic challenge

Fleming Fulton School, for the second time, hosted the annual Northern Ireland Vex Robotics Challenge.

This inter schools competition is organised by VEX Robotics and supported by the Ulster University and The Royal Academy of Engineering.

Teams from nine schools across Northern Ireland competed against each other with their kit built robots and attempted to push, lever, lift and pry their way to victory in the arena.

The team from Fleming Fulton School received the Judges

Award in recognition of both their team spirit and their robot design.

The overall winners were from Ashfield Boys School.

A huge congratulations to all the teams who took part.

First Holy Communion

On 23rd April, some of our P4 pupils took their first holy communion. Father Lyons and Father McCullough celebrated the mass at St. Anne's Church. Everyone looked stunning, sang beautifully and were a credit to our school. Thank you to Mrs Carberry.

Best Kept School

On 27th April 2016 we were judged as part of the Best Kept Schools Awards and await the outcome. On 6th May 2016 the ECO committee will host the judges for the Green Flag Award

XL Team Day

Wednesday 27th April 2016 was a big day in the XL calendar. As part of the unit in teamwork the pupils in year 13S and 15 organised an Activity Day with Malone College, SERC job club and Malton Fold. We had around 50 people participating with a Boccia tournament in the morning and a fun quiz in the afternoon. The groups mixed well together and competition was at a high during the final stages. Thanks to Mrs Vance and Denis O'Neill for umpiring and quiz master.

Forget me not

More than 500 entrepreneurs from local schools and colleges, including our very own ForgetMeNot, descended on Titanic Belfast recently for The Young Enterprise Regional Awards. I am delighted to announce that ForgetMeNot won The Best Team Programme in the Belfast area!!! We are so proud of our Business Studies students who have worked so hard and really deserve this. They were congratulated on demonstrating the following employability skills - teamwork, communication, organisation, confidence, resilience, financial literacy, problem solving and initiative. Next for us is Young Enterprise NI Awards Ceremony, a black tie event at the City Hall, on 12th May, where the overall N Ireland winner will be announced. There will be 6 regional winners all hopeful of this award. We are keeping fingers and toes crossed!

Young Cook of the year

Congratulations to Year 10 pupil, Caoimhe Duffy on winning the Young Cook of the Year 2016. The finals were held in Strabane and Caoimhe cooked the winning combination of Creamy Mac and Cheese with cucumber salad. Thank you to Mrs Kennedy and well done!

Special Schools Sing out Project

Mrs Lowry and P5 -P7 have been involved in this project and have been working very hard. They will be joined by pupils from Glenveagh, Mitchell House and Harberton for a final performance.
